Comstock and CI at WMU to launch preschool Chinese immersion

Comstock Public Schools is launching a first-of-its-kind Chinese immersion school for preschoolers. Confucius Institute at Western Michigan University is proud to team with Comstock Public Schools and to provide Chinese teachers to the program. The program will be held at Green Meadow Elementary, which will house the district's Early Learning Academy this fall. There will be two sessions, one morning and one afternoon, each with 16 students. More details about the program can be found on the website.
